GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp required thereon. If he neglects to do so, the party for whose use it is made may stamp it before it is used; but in no case can it be legally used without a stamp; and if issued after the 30th of June, 1864 and used without a stamp, it cannot be afterwards effectually stamped. Any failure upon the part of the maker of an instrument to appropriately stamp it renders him liable to a penalty of two hundred dollars.

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than writ, viz: summons, warrant, publication, petition, &c., in which cases these, as the original processes, severally require stamps.

Writs of scire facias are subject to stamp duty as original processes

The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a Justice of the Peace, Notary Public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits or legal proceedings

Certificate of loan, in which there shall appear any written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand, or at a time designated, are subject to stamp duty as "Promissory Notes."

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same stamp duty as that imposed upon the original instrument; that is to say, for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof of the amount secured by the mortgage at the time of its assignment, there must be fixed a stamp or stamps denoting a duty of fifty cents

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law may be affixed and canceled by any one of the parties.

In conveyances of real estate, the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required; and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rate required for such instruments, or either of them In such case, a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped

Methodist General Conference.

On the fifth day of the session, the 9th inst., Bishop Pierce, having arrived, was introduced by Bishop Andrew, who having made a brief address, Bishop Pierce took the chair.

Memorials from Virginia, Western Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mobile and Mississippi Conferences were presented and referred to appropriate committees. The memorials on changes urge the increase of the Episcopacy, the introduction of laymen in the legislative and executive branches of the Church, provisions for licensing colored preachers, making class meetings a privilege and not a test of membership, for catechetical instruction for probationers, the abolition of the probationary system, extension of the pastorate, &c.

On the 6th. day, Bishop Early in the Chair, various memorials were presented and referred. Rev. Dr. Lee presented an appeal case from the Virginia Conference; made the order of the day for Tuesday, the 17th.

The subject of the general Church paper, authorized in 1856, was referred to the committee on Books and Periodicals.

The resolution of Dr. Smith, of Va., proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Church, requiring the Bishops to submit to the Annual Conferences, for a concurring three-fourths vote, the proviso which authorises the Bishops to veto any rule or regulation passed by the General Conference, believed by them to be unconstitutional, was taken up. Rev. Mr. Ratcliffe, of the Ouachita Conference, moved that the proviso be stricken from the discipline. Pending the discussion, the Conference adjourned.

Rev. Dr. Craven is the member of the Committee on changes in economy, from the N. C. Conference.

A telegraphic dispatch to the New York Herald, dated the 14th., from New Orleans, states that the Conference has adopted a report extending the jurisdiction of the Southern Church in every direction. The committee on Episcopacy has reported, advising the election of six additional Bishops, and that one of their number reside in California.

"Freedom."

We have always thought that the character of GURTH, the Saxon serf, as drawn by Sir Walter Scott, in Ivanhoe, was, in many respects, an apt representation of the former Southern slave. Carlyle, in "Past and Present," written many years ago, has the following episode, in which he presents Gurth in pleasant contrast with even the white pauper of the English manufacturing districts. He had not the negro in his mind, but there is so much of appositeness to the present time in the picture which he draws that we are induced to give it:

"Gurth, born thrall of Cedric the Saxon, has been greatly pitied by Dryasdust and others.—Gurth with the brass collar round his neck, tending Cedric's pigs in the glades of the wood, is not what I call an exemplar of human felicity: but Gurth, with the sky above him, with the free air and tinted boscage and umbrage round him, and in him at least the certainty of supper and social lodging when he came home; Gurth to me seems happy, in comparison with many a Lancashire and Buckinghamshire man, of these days, not born thrall of anybody! Gurth's brass collar did not gall him: Cedric deserved to be his Master. The pigs were Cedric's, but Gurth too would get his parings of them.—Gurth had the inexpressible satisfaction of feeling himself related indissolubly, though in a rude brass-collar way, to his fellow-mortals in this Earth. He had superiors, inferiors, equals. Gurth is now 'emancipated' long since; has what we call 'Liberty.' Liberty, I am told, is a Divine thing. Liberty, when it becomes the 'Liberty to die by starvation,' is not so divine."

What may be the ultimate solution of the problem, time alone can determine. With the present lights before us, we see in his emancipation nothing but injury to the negro,—we mean as a race. Of course, there may be individual exceptions. Thus far, but very few of them are half so well off as they were when they had "to take no thought for the morrow, what they should eat, what they should drink, or wherewithal they should be clothed." In the majority of cases, their new condition has only been regarded by them as immunity from labor, and suffering and vagrancy are the legitimate results. That their "freedom" will ultimately work to their advantage is our hope; that it will, is a question of grave doubt.

MAJOR GEE AT HOME.—The Tallahasse Sentinel announces a concert in that City for the purpose of raising funds to assist in the defence of Maj. Jno. H. Gee.

Bloody Riot in Norfolk.

On Monday, the Freedmen of Norfolk, Portsmouth, and the surrounding country, celebrated the passage of the Civil Rights Bill by a procession and other demonstrations, which resulted in a general melee and bloody denouement. The following account of the affair we take from the Norfolk Virginian:

"There are various rumors as to the origin of the melee. The scene was in a field on Upper Union street, in the vicinity of the cemetery, on burial ground. Fire arms were used. Robert Whitehurst was killed, and his step mother, Mrs. Charlotte Whitehurst, mortally wounded. John Whitehurst, the half-brother of the killed, was dangerously wounded. Wm. Mosely, a city watchman, was very badly beaten, and his life is despaired of. Lawrence Hampton, a colored boy about ten years of age, was bayonetted on Granby street, by a negro in the procession. The wound is in the abdomen, and is of a dangerous character. We learn that several of the negroes were inflamed with liquor.

There is a negro saloon on the corner of Cumberland and Queen streets, which was visited not unfrequently by negroes who joined in the procession. They would leave the scene of the speech-making, dancing, singing, hallooing and firing of muskets and pistols, go to this drinking saloon, and return, inflamed, to the scene of rejoicing and jubilee. We fear that to liquor—to whiskey—may be traced the whole difficulty of the day. It is said that a dance of death was performed over the dead body of the murdered Whitehurst by the frenzied men who participated in his death.

What further injuries were sustained we are not prepared to say, but believe all the outrages of the day are included in the account we have given. Major Stanhope, the post commander, arrived on the scene after the enormities had been perpetrated, and used his authority to bring about quiet and order."

Such, adds the Virginian, was the beginning and ending of the celebration of the Civil Rights bill, on Monday, the 16th of April, 1866—a bill which the President of the United States was powerless to throttle in its incipiency, and which has been made a law of the land, under constitutional provision, by a relentless fanaticism, made mad with power, bloated with the arrogance of success, and impatient and restive under the restraining curb of the veto.

The Peace Proclamation.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says that "the speculations and doubts as to whether the late peace proclamation of President Johnson was intended to abolish martial law in the South, and restore the authority and jurisdiction of civil courts, have finally been set at rest by an act which gives his own interpretation of it. The Treasury agent, Dexter, convicted by a military commission of fraud on the government, kept in confinement in default of two hundred thousand dollars bail, and refused the benefit of the habeas corpus by General Woods, commanding the district of Mobile, acting under the order of the War Department, has been turned over to the civil authorities for trial. General Woods has been ordered to deliver the prisoner to the District Marshal, and the District Attorney will take the papers in the case and arraign him for trial. His innocence or guilt is a matter of little consequence to the country at large, but all who revere the supremacy of law will rejoice to know that a speedy and legal trial will be accorded him. Many similar cases are in existence, and the same orders will probably be made in all of them."

On the other hand, the Georgia papers state that instructions received in that State from the President, by the military authorities, authorize the opinion that habeas corpus is still suspended in that State and martial law continued, notwithstanding the Proclamation. The two things seem to be incongruous and the Southern people would like to know their condition. We hope the President will explain the proclamation.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT that the President has, in response to a resolution of inquiry from the Senate, sent to that body a message inclosing a report from Secretary Seward in reference to adequate protection to be afforded to American fishermen on the fishing grounds, may or may not be important. Mr. Seward says in his report that "the Secretary of the Navy has taken preparatory measures for sending seasonably a naval force to the fishing grounds, adequate to protect the rights and interests of American citizens against unlawful violence."

The fact that the British Government has sent a fleet to the same place for the purpose of protecting its subjects, indicates a mutual lack of confidence between the two countries that may, some fine morning, bring about a snarling controversy. It would be a singular thing, after all said and done, if Great Britain and the United States should finally come to blows over a codfish! On such an issue, all New England would rally to a man!

LATEST NEWS,—From the Progress, of last evening, we learn that Hon. C. C. Clay has been released on parole. He has been, for nearly twelve months, confined with Mr. Davis at Fortress Monroe.

The War Department has issued orders reducing the negro troops in Georgia to one regiment, in Alabama to two, in Mississippi to four, in South Carolina and Florida to one.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—SENATE.—The proceedings to-day possessed but little interest.—Mr. Stewart introduced a joint resolution for the discontinuance of the branch mint at New Orleans, and the appropriation of its machinery to aid in the construction of a branch mint in Nevada. Referred to the Finance Committee.

HOUSE.—The House was engaged in the consideration of the bill fixing the peace establishment of the army.

There were spirited personal explanations in both branches.

The Radicals in Congress are very open in their denunciation of Secretary Seward for the position he has taken in opposition to their plans of destruction. No other member of the Cabinet shares with him their outspoken dissatisfaction, though the political views of the Secretary of the Treasury are not held in respect by the Stevens clique. With these two exceptions, leading Radicals assert that the Cabinet is on the side of Congress.

Education,—Kittrell Springs Female Institute.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—It is pretty well known that the Rev. Mr. Riddick, whose classic taste and elevated morality well fit him for his present position, some months ago purchased, at an enormous price, these celebrated Springs, with their commodious and elegant fixtures attached thereto, in order to found, in the region of health, a College, consecrated to Morality and Female Education. The scheme, which he thus put on foot, at an enormous outlay of capital, was considered by very many thinking persons, in the present condition of the country, as wild and wholly visionary. Indeed, it is even now, to many, passing strange what wonderful success has attended, and is attending, this benevolent enterprise.

The prospective difficulty, however, which, to observing minds, seemed to attend this laudable undertaking, vanished in its inception. Untiring energy, which is the inspiration of genius, but waved its transforming wand, and lo! the theatre of a bewitching, fashionable watering place, where once fond becomes classic ground. It is true that music, and mirth and song, have not deserted these beautiful groves—still wild with nature's gorgeous, sun-lit splendors,—but it is the song of innocent hearts, untouched by the mildews of sorrow, music which gladdens a parent's soul, swells to extacy the promised hope of a country, whose Educational future is draped in sombre hues.

"Eyes looked love to eyes that spak again,"

The war, in its terrific course, among other melancholy results, demoralized Colleges, Academies and seats of learning, disorganized organized faculties, and left the impress of its rude power upon the the wrecks of Educational interests everywhere South. Our State suffered perhaps more than any other. Her Common School system has vanished, or, for the want of the invigorating power of Legislative aid, is impotent for good. Female Colleges, with here and there an exception, lie prostrate at the feet of the conqueror—in some instances desecrated to ignoble purposes—while our beloved University is heroically struggling to reach the prestige of her former glory.

The founding of this Institution was, therefore, hailed, almost everywhere, by parents and guardians with gratification, though there were many misgivings of its future success. These misgivings have vanished. Knowledge is power. The school is a success, and right proudly do we proclaim it!

Located within half mile of the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, in the midst of a most lovely region of country, as beautiful as the sun in her annual course smiles upon, within a stone's throw of a spring, that sends to the pale cheek its mantle of life, no wonder its fame has become a household word.

The fame of the school, young in years, and the medicated water, attracted my attention thitherward, and in company with a lady of refined taste, I strayed to visit the secluded, beautiful spot. We found Mr. Riddick in his studio, who welcomed us cordially. Here too, we met Dr. Hines, the College physician, eminent for his attainments, who laughingly said: "my office" is a "sinecure;" for, he added, naively enough, "the discovery of these healing, life-giving waters, some years ago, so frightened DISEASE, that his ghastly form has never dared since to enter its precincts."

The fame of the school has not been exaggerated. These beautiful girls, with their sunny faces, are made to know that mere smattering is not education; but they are taught, by assiduous application, to go down to the root of solid learning and useful science; and they are taught, what is as much valued, perhaps more appreciated, and justly so, that modesty and refined manners distinguish the well bred lady from the vulgar crowd.

Mr. Riddick has an efficient corps of accomplished teachers. The rooms are well ventilated, and much of scientific apparatus, entirely new, graces these halls of learning. Order and harmony everywhere prevail in the various departments. And his accomplished lady presides over the morals of the young ladies, now numbering more than eighty pupils, thus giving to parents and guardians a double assurance that both mind and morals are attended to with assiduous care. J.

[We have been necessarily compelled, on account of its length, to curtail somewhat the communication of our friend J.—EDS.]

Facts vs. Theories.

"Give me a place to rest my lever on," says Achimedes, "and I will move the world."—"Give me pure and unadulterated drugs," says Medicus, of the olden time, "and I will cure disease."

In one sense, both of these learned pundits were the veriest charlatans. They knew there was no place to rest their lever on, either to move the world or cure disease. Mechanism was in a backward state, and the medical profession was but another name for sorcery, and all the adjuncts of magic filters and charms of the "evil eye," &c.

But these latter days have borne unto us something more than even superstition and its crew ever dreamt of in their maddest philosophy. In these days of practical science, what was theory of yesterday is fact to-day, and all the old time notions become as bubbles in the sun, and burst and break with every breath we draw.

Let Archimedes shoulder his lever and we will find a resting place for it to move the world. Let mine ancient Medicus pant and toil no more for the drugs he so sorely needs, for we have them at our hand, ever ready to serve them at his beck.

Refined in the laboratory of Dr. Maggiel, the finest materials known in the medical profession are obtainable by any one. His Bilious, Dyspeptic, and Diarrhœa Pills stand unrivalled, and his Salve operates with magical effect upon burns, scalds, and all sores and ulcers of the skin.

In fact, we think Maggiel's Pills and Salve are the wonder of this century, and we are happy in the thought that many others of our brethren of the craft agree with us. We would earnestly counsel that all families provide themselves with Dr. Maggiel's Preparations at once, and keep them ready at hand, so as to use them at the most opportune time and as occasion serves.—Valley Sentinel.

MOSBY REFUSED TO GIVE UP HIS CONFEDERATE COAT.—The Alexandria Gazette says a disturbance occurred at Leesburg on Tuesday by an attempt of the military guard there to take from Colonel Mosby, who was in town, his overcoat, which had on it some "Confederate buttons," or was grey cloth, or something of the kind. He refused to give it up, and mounted his horse to leave town, when he was pursued and fired at by those who followed him. The next day, this military company, it is said, were ordered from Leesburg.

General Howard has published a letter denying that he ever stated to Governor Brownlow, of Tennessee, that the President was in favor of the Freedmen's Bureau bill or that he (Gen. Howard,) ever read the bill, section by section, to the President, as asserted by Brownlow.

For the Sentinel.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I see in your paper of this morning a communication in favor of accepting the new charter of the city of Raleigh. I had hoped there was not a man, woman or child in the city who would approve it. If there had been a clause in the charter to abolish all city police, night watch, &c., I should have viewed it more favorably than I do. They cost the city a heavy sum and are almost worthless. I cannot consent to confer any more power upon our city Fathers. I cannot and will not consent to be taxed $1.50 upon the $100 worth of real estate. I think our taxes far exceed the benefits we now derive from being governed at all. I wish some one would show me wherein the Eastern Ward has been benefitted by the extension of the charter. We have the privilege of paying an increased tax, without a corresponding benefit; and for one I am tired of it.

The writer signed "Charter" says "the streets should be lighted on dark nights.' I have watched carefully, for years past, and have never seen a light in the "Eastern Ward." We give a larger vote, I believe, than any other ward, and have to content ourselves to pay for the lights and even the water in the other wards. It is true that a great many of our citizens rent the houses in which they live, but if this enormous tax is to be placed upon the property, will it not increase their rents? instead of reducing them, I am for a reduction in rents, as well as in many other things.

"Charter" urges the adoption of the new charter to prevent the negroes from voting, and says that before the meeting of the Legislature in November next, a law may pass Congress preventing us from excluding that class. Then, in the name of God, we want no law—we want no Congress—we want no city charter.

ANTI- CHARTER.

GENERAL NEWS.

CIVIL RIGHTS BILL.—Prominent radicals, who have had interviews with the President since the passage of the Civil Rights bill, say that he will execute it. They don't want him to do it, as they are seeking some pretext for deposing him from office, and a failure on his part to carry out this unconstitutional act would be all they desire. The President understands this matter thoroughly, and is perfectly satisfied, if a collision arises between the Federal and State authority, to let the question be decided by the courts.—Washington Correspondence Philadelphia Age.

The Supreme Court of the United States having decided the Indiana military commission for the trial of civilians to be illegal, and the persons convicted by it having, in consequence, been discharged, there is no doubt that steps will soon be taken to procure the release of Dr. Mudd, Arnold, O'Laughlin and Spangler, convicted of a conspiracy against the life of President Lincoln. The friends of the parties claim the benefit of that decision, and will take action accordingly.

EARLY VEGETABLES IN THE SOUTH.—The Mobile papers have most tantalizing accounts of the abundance of vegetables in the city markets. Green peas were plenty—some brought from New Orleans, but the most of them home growth. The finest of carrots, celery, cabbages, rutabagas, radishes, lettuce, beets, &c., were displayed. New potatoes were also in abundance.

Appointment of Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The President has apointed Henry Stansbury, of Ohio, to be an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, in the place of Judge Catron, deceased, and also Mr. Smythe, President of the Central National Bank, to be Collector of Customs for the port of New York.

Testimony of Hon. A. H. Stephens before the Reconstruction Committee.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Among the testimony reported to-day from the Committee on Reconstruction, was that of Alexander H. Stephens. He states that he had conversed freely and fully with prominent leading men in Georgia, and met with a great many prominent and influential men at Milledgeville not connected with the Legislature. He gave his decided opinion, from conversation with them and from correspondence, that an overwhelming majority of the people of Georgia are exceedingly anxious for the restoration of the Government, and for the State to take her position in the Union; to have her Senators and Representatives admitted into Congress, and to enjoy all her rights and discharge all her obligations as a State under the Constitution of the United States, as it stands amended. His opinion of the sentiment of the people of Georgia is that the exercise of the right of secession was resorted to by them from a desire to render their liberties and institutions more secure, and a belief on their part that this was absolutely necessary for that object. He further believes it is their opinion that the surest if not the only hope for their liberties is the restoration of the Constitution of the United States, and of the Government under that Constitution. He thinks the people are sufficiently satisfied with the experiment never to resort to that measure of redress again, by force. Whatever may be their own abstract ideas upon that subject, they have come to the conclusion that it is better to appeal to the forms of reason and justice—to the halls of legislation and the courts, for the preservation of the principles of constitutional liberty, than to the arena of arms. The idea of secession is totally abandoned.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Uterine and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that Maggiel's Bilious, Dyspepic and Diarrhea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 43 Fulton Street, New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box. Sold by all Druggists in Raleigh.

THIS valuable Manure has been before the agricultural public, under one name for twelve years past, and its character for vigor of action and permanence in effect is well established. Before the war, it was introduced, to some extent, in the Southern States, and was found to be highly adapted to Cotton, Tobacco, and all Crops.

In its action, it is as quick as Peruvian Guano, while it does not leave the land in an exhausted state, but on the other hand permanently improves it. This has been fully proven by years of trial.

Trial of Major Jno. H. Gee.

SYNOPSIS OF TESTIMONY.

TWENTY-NINTH DAY.

WEDNESDAY, April 18, 1866.

James G. Martin, sworn: Lives in Asheville N. C.; is studying law. A Brigadier General during the war. In September 1864, was in command of District of West N. C. It included Salisbury. When the number of prisoners there was increased, I was directed to send a guard of 1500 men to Salisbury, and it was necessary to call out all the Senior Reserves. They were assembled in ten days or two weeks.—They did'nt come out well, and their places were supplied by a regiment of State troops; there were about 1100 of them, more or less.—They were not soldiers, and never had been in their lives; they were just put under arms.—Some of them may have been in the army and discharged, because they were over the age of service. When I got the order, these men were at their homes. They had been organized and remained at home. One regiment had not been organized till it got to Salisbury. I did not know any of the men, personally, but I suppose they were mostly farmers, between forty-five or fifty years of age. They were ordered to assemble at Salisbury. One regiment was there before I got there, and some prisoners of war. Other guards and prisoners came after I went there. Don't remember when I went there; think it was on same day the large number of officers and men got there. The officers of this old guard were elected by the men; they all belonged to the same class in age, occupation and soldierly knowledge. They were like any man picked up in the country, streets or any where.

I received those orders from the War Department, I think. I had charge of the troops and Home Guard in the Western District. I received my orders for troops from Gen. Lee; for Home Guards from Gen. Holmes. These orders may have been from both, I don't remember.

I visited Salisbury to organize this hastily assembled guard. There were very few prisoners previous to this order for the increase. It was for 10,000 men, I think.

The resources of the Quartermaster and Commissary Department at Salisbury were very small; most of what they got went to Lee's army. My command drew very little from Salisbury. I found the supplies there nothing, or next to nothing. The night after I arrived there, an additional battalion came in, and about 8 o'clock the commanding officer came to me to get tents. I gave him either a note or requisition for the quartermaster. The next morning the officer said he could not get any. He made a formal requisition for tents, and, I think, 12 axes, and I went with him to the Quartermaster's office. The Quartermaster was not there, but his clerk was who said they had none; that the Q. M. had gone away and taken the keys. I sent for a guard and found a half a dozen axes which I took. I found no tents.—The Q. M. General wrote to me for an explanation, and said I had no right to take quartermaster stores. I think Capt. Goodman was the Q. M. at that time. Dont think the guard had anything from the government, but the scant rations that were issued to them. Shortly after this, they were turned over to General Winder.

I think I was at Salisbury four times while guard reported to me. Dont remember the dates. The last time I was there, I turned over the guard to Gen. Winder.

I recognize the accused. I saw him when I first went there. He and I had frequent conversations about the scarcity of supplies, the condition of the prisoners and what could be done for their amelioration. He was always anxious to do everything that could be done to relieve the condition of the prisoners. He showed me his telegrams and the answers to them. At first the prisoners were so numerous that he could not attend to them. The preparations were not sufficient for so great a number of men. He and I talked about shelter and my opinion was that a covering, simply, would be better than close huts. He or the Quartermaster told me that they had employed all the Mills in the vicinity to saw lumber, first to enlarge the enclosure, and afterwards to build shelters.

I do not remember seeing Major Morfit there at that time. I saw him afterward. The guard had no provisions and no tents. They quartered anywhere they could, in stables and sheds, and threw up a little dirt over a few fence rails. Two or three companies of young men, who had been there some time, had tents. I came to Raleigh after my first visit at Salisbury, to see if I could get tents and axes for both prisoners and guard. It was getting cold, I came here, and it is my impression that I had 4 boxes of axes and 400 tents sent up. I made a requisition and the Quartermaster promised to send all the tents and axes he had here.—I don't know whether they were all sent. I saw some of the tents inside the enclosure. I have always thought the guard did not get them. I don't know many tents and axes got to Salisbury. I think I should have seen them if guard had got them.

The second time I went there, some of the tents were pitched, but most of the prisoners were using the tents on the ground.

Major Gee telegraphed repeatedly not to send any more prisoners. He either showed me the telegrams or said he had reported the place unfit for a large prison, and they answered that they would send some one to inspect it. The government owned a small space of ground there, less than 20 acres, not more than was enclosed,—I am under that impression. The ground at the south of the prison was low and damp; it was not a swamp,—that is not close to the well. The power to impress I understood to be limited by act of Congress. I never exercised the power or attempted to exercise it. There were generally officers designated in the quartermaster and commissary departments the country was divided into sections and the officers were assigned to them. I never supposed I had the power to impress real or personal property. I never examined the law to see whether I had the power. I should think Major Gee had no right to impress. He had to make requisition on the officer designated to impress. (Here General orders from the A. I. G. office, relating to impressment of meat and also to the disposition of the clothing taken from dead Confederate soldiers, were shown to the witness.) These seem to be genuine orders.

Up to the time I turned over the guard the senior officer had command of all the troops.—Major Gee made no reports to me. The commanding officer could control his requisition for guards. Major Gee complained of the scantiness of the guard and also of the unfitness of the officers of the day for their duty.

Huts for the prisoners of war could not have been erected by Major Gee, with the means at his command, in any reasonable time. It would have taken a long time, can't say how long.—He did not have axes, while I was there, or teams. I had several conversations with the quartermaster. He always said he was doing all he could, that he could not get wood enough for the prisonsrs, that he used the railroad besides the teams. Major Gee did not have guards enough to afford a detail to go off with the prisoners to cut in the woods.

Major Gee complained to me once or twice and I examined and found that in my judgment the officer in command had but a sufficient number on guard at the prison.

Several officers told me that the guard preferred to go out and cut wood themselves, to guarding prisoners.

A military officer situated as Maj. Gee was, would not have any discipline unless the men were well disposed. These men seemed well disposed. I know that Maj. Gee complained to me about officers of the day and the officer in command of the troops did not gainsay it.

Senior Reserves were simply the militia of the country—over forty-five—they elected their own officers.

I had repeated conversations with Maj. Myers, Chief of Subsistence, and with Maj. Gee about supplies. Maj. Gee complained frequently that he could not get provisions. He said the day the prisoners came he could not give them any breakfast, and had sent to the Commissary and that he would get it in the course of the day. He always said he would like to get more and couldn't do it. Authorities at Richmond made no arrangements for supplies for the prisoners; they were sent on short notice. Everything that could be collected at the various depots was sent to Gen. Lee's army. The means were entirely disproportionate to the demand. There was scarcity in the country all the time—not want, but great scarcity, caused by the close way the staff officers collected supplies for Lee's army. They had been taken before the arrival of the prisoners, I think, not afterward. They were always to go to Lee's army. Maj. Myers told me so. Maj. Myers asked me for a guard to support him in seizing provisions in transitu for Richmond. The report to me was that the Railroad officers had receipted for these provisions to be delivered to some agent of Lee's army at one of the depots, and that they were not authorized to give them up. Myers asked me for a guard, and I said yes, but it was not necessary, as the provisions were given up. They said they only wanted a show of force. Major Myers told me this was for the use of the prisoners.

Major Gee and I had repeated conversations about getting water for the prisoners; we talked about using the well in the fort and the wells in town. I don't know how many wells were opened in the prison. At that time he did not have enough lumber to complete the stockade. He told me he had made a requisition on the Quartermaster who had promised it as soon as he could get it. The Quartermaster told me the same thing.

I never made any special efforts to get waggons for the guard; there was scarcity of transportation. The Quartermaster had not waggons enough to supply the command with wood.—The roads became bad early in the season; this was a serious difficulty.

I made a requisition for clothing on the Chief Quartermaster of the State. He said it would have to be issued to the troops in the field first. I went to the Governor and got an order for some blanke s, jackets and pantaloons—I wanted them for each man in the Senior Reserves. I got an order for some small number. I don't know whether they reached Salisbury or not.

The men were never all in uniform. At this time there was great excitement through the State against impressment. It was a subject of constant newspaper squabbling. There was a difference between the schedule and market price. The government price for flour was $45 and the market price $400. People about Salisbury did not want to furnish provisions to that post.

I had no authority to call on the State for anything. The Senior Reserves were entitled to the same subsistence, clothing, &c., as troops in the field. Their officers mentioned to me the scarcity of fuel and rations. I can't say whether they had shelter for the relief guard on duty.

Major Gee repeatedly advised with me in regard to making the best use of the means at his disposal. He seemed anxious to do the best he could.

I saw Judge Baxter there—don't know his position. He was with Major Gee. He was present several times and heard conversations between us and saw Major Gee's telegrams. I do not recollect seeing Major Gee's letters.

The Richmond authorities gave no relief; they continued to send prisoners. My impression is, that they were obliged to send them, and he would have to do the best he could. General Winder was there when I turned over the guard. He said he had inspected the prison, and that it was not fit for the prisoners. He read me the letter he sent to the War Department.

I don't remember accurately the replies from Richmond to Major Gee's telegrams; they said they would send an inspector. Major Gee told me once or twice, that he had or would apply to be relieved, because he could not get facilities for doing what ought to be done.

QUESTION.—What opinion did you form of Maj. Gee's character for humanity or inhumanity? (Objected to and objection sustained.)—I thought he discharged his duties as well as he could, and with as much consideration for those under his control as the means would permit.

I never saw any orders as to the non-intercourse between citizens and prisoners. The ordinary custom is not to allow it.

The morning after I got there, there was no provisions and I asked Gen. Hays to come out and see me. I explained to him how the Commissary was situated. He spoke of the attempt to rob the officers the night before, and that they were to be removed to the little log buildings, and said that was all that was necessary, except something to eat. I assured him it would be given as soon as the Commissary could get it.

If Major Gee had left that post, all the protests he had made against the prisoners being sent there, &c. would have been no justification. He would have been charged with disobedience to orders, and probably, desertion, and would have been punished by death or at the discretion of a court martial.

Court adjourned until 10 A. M., to-day.

CITY CHARTER ELECTION.—As we are advocates of free discussion, we admit the article of our correspondent "Anti-Charter," without assuming any responsibility or endorsing his positions. He is a citizen, and a property-holder, and is entitled to his opinions.

TAXES.—Bear in mind that the lists of taxables, under the late Revenue law of the Legislature, are to be given in this week,—beginning to-day. The Freedmen, at the same time, will enjoy the unusual luxury of listing themselves, also, with a view to the further luxury of paying some day.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—We regret to learn, from the Goldsboro' News, that Capt. W. S. STEVENSON, late of the 61st N. C. Regiment, met with a serious accident on Tuesday, in endeavoring to jump from the train while in motion. It seems that Capt. Stevenson was returning from Wilmington, intending to get off at Goldsboro', but when the train arrived, he was asleep, and did not wake up until after the train had gotten well under way, when he attempted to jump off, and in doing so, fell under the car, the wheels passing over and horribly mangling his right leg. He was taken to the boarding house of Mrs. Wright, where amputation was performed by Dr. Kirby, and he now lies in a very critical condition. Capt. S. is a son of the late M. M. Stevenson, of Washington, former Cashier of the Bank of Washington, and, since the surrender, has been living in Greensboro.

"ASA HARTZ" is repeating, at various points, his lecture on "Babies." The Wilmington Journal, speaking of its delivery in that city, says that "he handled the subject with the skill of an experienced nurse." "Asa" lectured in Charlotte on Monday night.

The Southern Relief Fair--The Last Day.

The Baltimore Sun, of Saturday, contains the following account of the last day of the Great Southern Relief Fair:

The last day of the great exhibition was but little behind its predecessors in interest and excitement. Although the season tickets were withdrawn on Thursday evening, the hall was comfortably filled with visitors during yesterday, and in the evening a perfect ovation took place. Many of the ladies at the tables were relieved from duty in consequence of having disposed of their respective stocks of goods, and mingling with the gay throng, for the first time during the fair, heartily participated in the enjoyments of the occasion. The Blues' Band, Prof. Holland, having volunteered for the occasion, performed some of its choicest selections, many of the pieces being encored. Precisely as the clock tolled out ten the gong sounded, the crowd commenced leaving the hall, and hundreds of busy fingers were at work in packing up and making ready the remaining goods for removal from the hall. Thus the great Southern Relief Fair—one of the most successful enterprizes of the kind ever undertaken—came to a close amid congratulations and good wishes. The precise amount realized by the fair cannot be ascertained at this time, but the great exhibition has yielded not less than one hundred and thirty thousand dollars.

VISIT FROM MINISTERS.

A number of ministers of various denominations visited the fair yesterday, and were well received by the lady managers. Among others was the Most Reverend Archbishop Spalding, who was gracefully received by the ladies. The clerical gentlemen were all apparently delighted with the visit.

AID FOR GEORGIA.

At a meeting of the executive committee yesterday morning, in view of the appeals that have come from Georgia, $8,000 was voted for the immediate relief of the people of that State. The next Savannah steamer from this port will carry such articles as may be purchased or donated for the suffering people of that section. It is understood that $2,000 in money, and $6,000 worth of provisions will be forwarded to Gov. Jenkins of Georgia, who was telegraphed of the fact last evening."

BOSTON, April 14.—A special dispatch from Washington to the Advertiser says: "Preparations are being made to hold the regular term of the United States Circuit Court in Richmond next month, and the trial of Jefferson Davis, for high treason, may be expected in two months."

A Remarkable Case.

DISEASE IN WHICH THE LUNGS AND THROAT ARE INVOLVED.—Mrs. Phebe Perkinson, Petersburg, Va., (Aug. 26, 1865,) says: "I hereby certify, that two years ago last June, I was afflicted with a disease commonly called the Breast Complaint, the pain and weakness in the breast continued to increase so that I could not bear my clothes fastened on me for the space of two years; I found great difficulty in breathing; a general debility prevailed over my whole system—so much so, that I could not walk up the steps without drawing myself up by the banister; had a continued hacking cough, which distressed me greatly, four times during my illness had Hemorrhage of the Lungs. All medical treatment failed to afford me relief; it was the opinion of my friends that I must die with the consumption; I was advised to use the SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS; after using three boxes, strictly according to directions, I find myself in the enjoyment of perfect health; I have a good appetite, have become as fleshy as I ever was, sleep sound and pleasant, and can perform any duty with as much strength and vigor as I ever did. They certainly have acted like a perfect charm on me."

CLEANSE THE BLOOD.

With corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood, you are sick all over. It may burst out in Pimples, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scrofula, or Kings' Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, also Syphilis or Venereal Diseases, Liver Complaints, and Heart Diseases. Try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and see for yourself the surprising activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract o Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound "Sarsaparilla," and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best alterative which we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe, it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.

Ayers Cherry Pectoral is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, that it is useless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

LIFE INSURANCE NOTICE.

THE old and well established

Ætna Company, of Hartford,

Offers superior inducements to all who wish to provide for family or friends.

All losses are promptly paid. No case of litigation has ever occurred with this Company. With assets of $2,000,000, it offers to receive one half of the premium in a note and half in cash, and, after the second year, to credit each customer with the dividends of the Company, which are now 50 per cent. With a small outlay, $50 0, or $10,000, or $20,000, may be secured to the family after their earthly providers are taken away. What father or husband would not feel thankful on his dying couch, that he had availed himself of every proper means to place those nearest and dearest to him, above the pinchings of want, and a life of dependence upon friends or charity? 8 819 policies have been issued from the office ending Jan. 15 1866. The total income for the year 1865 was $1,683,339 57; total disbursements $527 305 21, leaving a balance to surplus fund of $1,155,2 4 33.

In Raleigh a large number have liberally responded and promptly acted in this matter; yet many delay, and may wait until it is too late. A man in this city lately left his place of business for his evening meal, well and healthy, but never reached that home except as he was carried there to die. Had that man taken the advice of the Agent, he might have left $5000 to minister to the necessities of a sorrowing family. Delays are dangerous, procrastination destructive. But one says, "If I only had confidence in the Company that it would pay, I would insure." Well, it never has failed to pay, and to-day is more responsible than ever before. It is patronized by some of the most sagacious minds in the land—men competent to detect and expose any deception if it existed.

CIRCULAR.

The Co-partnership of G. W. DEEMS & C. F. DEEMS has been dissolved, by mutual consent, and the business of manufacturing the Southern has gone into the hands of G. W. DEEMS, the discoverer, who has removed to Baltimore, Md., where he can have access to the purest and best Medicines, on the most favorable terms. He will always keep on hand a large supply, and will sell to his customers, wholesale and retail, at the shortest notice.

Where these Pills are known, especially in the Southern States, where they have been circulated so extensively, they need no recommendation—their merits are so well known by their results.

We thank our customers for the liberal patronage given us heretofore, and hope they will continue to favor us by sending their orders to G. W. DEEMS No 28 South Calhoun Street, Baltimore, Md., where they will be promptly attended to, the cash accompanying the orders. Price 30 cts. per box; $2.50 per dozen, and a liberal discount to dealers.

For sale by P. F PESCUD, and WILLIAMS & HAYWOOD.
